

Best in West of Scotland

We won't let you down

Freedom School of Motoring do not just believe in merely teaching you to pass a test but will give you a sound driving knowledge and ability by providing you with all the training and support you need to be a safe and confident driver on all of today's varying road conditions.

We are a driving school who provide driving lessons in most towns and villages throughout the Central Belt of Scotland.

All driving instructors with Freedom School of Motoring, unlike many other driving instructors, are required to further develop their own driving and instructional abilities beyond the minimum qualifications required to be a DSA Approved Driving Instructor. This approach has resulted in an excellent training environment for our students and one where our instructors have improved their own driving to a more advanced level, which in turn can then be passed on to you!

Freedom will provide you with full support for the theory test including on-road training for the Hazard Perception element. We encourage our students to sit the theory test as soon as they are able and you can buy all study materials direct from us or your instructor.
